Comité de Vía de Admisión NACE
Escuela de Ingeniería
Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile

Dear Comité de Vía de Admisión NACE,

I am pleased to write this letter in support of Maximiliano Moldenhauer's application to the Escuela de Ingeniería at Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile.

Max has been working with us at Cybrancee for over a year. His primary areas of work have been making guides that our customers use for troubleshooting and finding resolution. Max has also been involved with development work of eggs for many of the games we host, which has enabled us to increase the number of games we're able to host.

Max has good time keeping skills, as work gets delivered when he says it will be. He's also good at working things out for himself, as a lot of the egg work meant digging into how a game server actually runs and getting it working properly under Pterodactyl with very little to go on.

I'm happy to support his application. He's been a beneficial part of our team, and I'd expect him to be the same wherever he works.

Please feel free to contact me if any additional information is needed.

Sincerely,

Joshua Richardson
